

Speak the Language of Success with Cincilingua

English Proficiency is Key to Professional Advancement

Cincilingua student Miguel Pellat, an executive with Elek Moreno Valle Asociados in Mexico, says his three-week language immersion experience at Cincilingua's language institute, was highly effective. "I feel much more confident in speaking English, specifically with financial vocabulary. My course was specially structured in order to achieve the goals that I asked for. I am able to speak in a fluent manner, understanding oral conversations with native English speakers who usually use idiomatic expressions."

"Global business speaks English," reports the Harvard Business Review. According to the Review, this marketplace reality is driven by "competitive pressure, globalization of tasks and resources, and merger or acquisition integration across national boundaries."

As more and more multinational companies mandate English as the common corporate language, proficiency will be the power that propels motivated professionals to positions of leadership in the global marketplace. The ability to communicate accurately and effectively is of paramount importance to a successful career.
